

Workshop

Ph.D. THESIS TO BOOK MANUSCRIPT: A FACULTY WORKSHOP

SEPTEMBER 21-22, 2018

10:00AM-5:00PM

T3 NEW FACULTY CONFERENCE ROOM

This two-day workshop aims to equip faculty with the revision processes of rewriting and restructuring to help turn a Ph.D. thesis into a book manuscript. Participants will also be made aware of what a publisher looks for in a book proposal, and how a thesis is assessed for its viability for publication. The workshop will also cover the workings of the anonymous review process for academic book manuscripts. Participants will also receive feedback on their manuscript-in-progress.

Workshop Facilitator

Arpita Das is the founding editor of Yoda Press. Apart from her practical experience in publishing academic books, she has also served as a faculty at IHS, Bangalore and Ambedkar University Delhi to teach courses in publishing and to help set up writing labs. She is a founding member of the Tejeshwar Singh College of Publishing and in that capacity conducts workshops to bridge academia and publishing.

For any queries, please contact
Arpita Das
Email: arpitadas.tscp@sagepub.in

Dr. Anannya Dasgupta
Email: adasgupta@jgu.edu.in

