4. Events Recap

Webinar | Translating Knowledge: Writing Beyond the Academy

The poster features logos for O.P. JINDAL GLOBAL UNIVERSITY, I.D.E.A.S. OFFICE of INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES, and DOING SOCIOLOGY. The title 'TRANSLATING KNOWLEDGE: WRITING BEYOND THE ACADEMY' is in large yellow letters. Below it, the subtitle 'Academic Blogging in India - Lessons from Doing Sociology' is in white. Two speakers are listed with their photos: Dr. Rituparna Patgiri and Dr. Deepali Aparajita Dungdung. At the bottom, it says '27th June 2025' with a clock icon showing '3 PM' to '4 PM'. A QR code is provided for registration. Social media handles for JGU Ideas are listed at the very bottom.

As part of the MSc Development Practice programme, I.D.E.A.S. hosted a webinar on June 27, 2025 in collaboration with Doing Sociology, focusing on academic communication and writing for wider audiences. Our speakers were:

Dr. Rituparna Patgiri

Assistant Professor of Sociology, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences (HSS), Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Guwahati.

Dr. Deepali Aparajita Dungdung
Assistant Professor, University Department of Sociology, Ranchi University. make it short description to put in newsletter

The talk explores the ongoing crisis in higher education, particularly within the social sciences, driven by global funding cuts. There has been a concerted effort to transform education from a public good into a capitalist commodity.

These challenges have necessitated innovation in pedagogy and the search for alternative approaches that can uphold academic freedom and critical thought. In this context, the digital space has emerged as a vital tool. Doing Sociology is one such pedagogical experiment—it offers a platform for young scholars to read, write, and engage critically. Through blogs and other online formats, it aims to make knowledge more accessible and inclusive.

5. Mission in Motion: Stories from Field

On 17th June 2025, the Grassroots Action Program (GAP) team launched their latest assessment report titled “Margins and Pathways: Mapping Educational Trajectories and the Role of Navjyoti in Bawana JJ Colony.”

In the presence of Navjyoti Foundation team members and beneficiaries, the GAP researchers — Dr. Manika Bora (Co-Lead, Grassroots Action Program & Research Fellow, I.D.E.A.S. & Assistant Professor, JGLS), Dr. Divya Gupta (Senior Research Fellow & Co-Lead at Grassroot Action Program, I.D.E.A.S. & Associate Professor JGLS), and Tahiba Banu (Lecturer, I.D.E.A.S.) — presented their findings and facilitated a thought-provoking interactive dialogue. The discussion was not just data-driven, but also deeply personal, as it included voices from the ground — the children and families whose lives are touched by the programs.

6. Programme Announcement

Admissions Open 2025

We are excited to announce that our M.Sc. in Development Practice is a flagship program set to commence in the month of August 2025.

This programme is designed to critically engage with the complex and interlinked challenges facing the Global South, such as jobless growth, climate crises, and social inequality. The program emphasizes theoretical rigor, transdisciplinary inquiry, and intensive field engagement to prepare students for impactful careers in development research and practice.

Recently, we also launched the latest edition of M.Sc. Development Practice Webinar Newsletter

Online Workshop

"Making Sense of the Economy: Demystifying Macroeconomic Data"

July 12, 2025. Ideasx workshop

This workshop is designed to help participants know and understand key macroeconomic indicators—such as GDP, inflation, employment, fiscal balances, and external sector metrics—and make sense of this data. It will also help the participants know the sources of the data and how they influence economic policy, business decisions, and everyday conversations about the economy.

Whether you are a student of economics, a researcher, a policymaker, or a curious observer, this workshop will equip you with the tools to critically read, interpret, and question economic data as it appears in the media, budgets, or research

Our Instructors:

- Dr. Abhisek Sur, Associate Professor, JGLS
- Richa Singh, Doctoral Fellow, IIM Ranchi

Session Timings:

- Session 1: 11:00 AM – 1:00 PM
- Session 2: 2:00 PM – 4:00 PM

Two day Workshop

“Researching the Contemporary: A Methods-Lab for Early Career Scholars”

13-14 October, 2025

This workshop will foster dialogue among participants around methodological challenges in social science and humanities research. Through peer learning, thematic panels, and feedback sessions, the workshop focuses on the “how” of research—fieldwork, archives, texts, memory, and encounters—rather than just the “what.”

Important Dates:

Extended Abstract Deadline: 15 July 2025

Selection Notification: 30 July 2025

Full Paper Submission: 20 September 2025

Organized by:

Moulding Methods at I.D.E.A.S.,
Jindal Global University

In collaboration with UNESCO
Chair in Vulnerability Studies,
Hyderabad University

Call for Abstracts

Researching the Contemporary
A Methods-Lab for Early Career Scholars

13-14 October 2025
O.P. Jindal Global University, Sonapat

This two-day workshop in the form of a 'Methods Lab' invites PhD students, independent researchers, and young faculty for an exchange to reflect on their methodological journeys and dilemmas and centers attention on the process of research—the field, the literary text, the encounter, the archive, the method, the memory and the uncertain. We aim to create a peer-learning space where researchers share not just 'what they found', but also 'how they found it', and what transitions occur during the same, reflecting back on their research findings. It will feature thematic panels, peer feedback discussions, plenaries with senior researchers reflecting on methodological questions.

Who can apply?
We invite abstracts from a range of social sciences/humanities disciplines - including but not limited to, anthropology, sociology, psychology, political science, economics, literary studies, and history - which reflect on their methodological challenges. We especially encourage submissions from scholars from marginalized backgrounds.

Apply By:
Extended deadline for submission of abstracts:
15 July 2025.
Selected participants will be informed by
30 July 2025.
Date of submission of full papers
20 September, 2025.
**No registration fees will be charged. Participants from outside Delhi will have to arrange their own travel.*

Themes

- Understanding Climate and the Sustainable Development Goals
- Labour, Migration, Care and Social Reproduction
- Social Exclusion and Vulnerability: Knowledge at the Margins

Submission Guidelines

*We invite Abstracts of 300-350 words, that align with the three thematic, focusing on:

- A methodological question, challenge or innovation encountered in your research
- The context of the research (discipline, theme, site, object)
- A brief reflection on how it shaped your knowledge practices and impinged on your object of research

*Submissions should include: Title of the presentation, 5 keywords; Full name, institutional affiliation (if any), and email address.

*Please send your abstract in .doc/.docx or PDF format with the subject line:
