O.P. Jindal Global University

O.P. Jindal Global University (JGU) is a non-profit university established by the Government of Haryana and recognised by the University Grants Commission (UGC). JGU was established as a philanthropic initiative of its Founding Chancellor, Mr. Naveen Jindal in memory of his father, Mr. O.P. Jindal. JGU has been awarded the highest grade 'A' by the National Accreditation & Assessment Council (NAAC).

JGU is one of the few universities in Asia that maintains a 1:13 faculty-student ratio and appoints faculty members from India and the world with outstanding academic qualifications and experience. JGU is a research intensive university, which is deeply committed to its core institutional values of interdisciplinarity and innovative pedagogy; pluralism and rigorous scholarship; and globalism and international engagement. JGU has established eight schools: Jindal Global Law School (JGLS), Jindal Global Business School (JGBS), Jindal School of International Affairs (JSIA), Jindal School of Government and Public Policy (JSGP), Jindal School of Liberal Arts & Humanities (JSLH), Jindal School of Journalism & Communication (JSJC), Jindal School of Art & Architecture (JSAA) and Jindal School of Banking & Finance (JSBF).

Jindal School of International Affairs

India's rising economic and military might must be complemented with a world-class international affairs social science base that will generate and test theories and peddles a special Indian variant or brand of global studies. JSIA has become the locus of such an ambitious vision by situating India as a vibrant ground for social science ideas and debates and giving India a leadership role on the world stage. JSIA aims to place India on the global map as a provider of knowledge that is internationally relevant and of the highest standards.

JSIA is a response to numerous calls to action for improving the human resources India possesses in its journey of global ascendancy. It is unbecoming of an aspirant to great power status in the international system to not possess institutions that can produce knowledge which can form the basis for resolving the most pressing global problems of our time.

The byline for JSIA reads, 'India's First Global Policy School'. We are the first Masters (MA) degreeawarding graduate school in any Indian university to date which explicitly combine the scholarly weights of three inter-related disciplines, viz. International Relations, International Law and International Business. This holistic 'Global Policy' approach stands apart from traditional approaches to studying world affairs, which were largely confined to the sub-field of Political Science known as International Relations.

JSIA offers world-class inter-disciplinary education that connects a completely new mega-discipline that can be labelled as 'global policy studies' or 'world affairs studies'. In the fall of 2015, we began a three-year B.A. in Global Affairs degree designed for (10+2) grade students interested in international policies and the global processes that affect all societies.

Jindal Centre for Israel Studies

Jindal Centre for Israel Studies (JCIS) was established in 2012 at Jindal School of International Affairs (JSIA) to advance the study of modern State of Israel. The centre is the first of its kind dedicated to the field of Israel studies within the Indian academia. However due to the international nature of the curriculum, since its inception, besides Indian students it has had students participating from countries like: Afghanistan, Mozambique, Kenya, South Africa and the United States. JCIS aspires to pioneer the field of Israel Studies through excellence in teaching for multicultural non-western classrooms and build a research colloquium on Israeli History, Politics, Society and Culture as well as on Israel-Jewish Diaspora Relations. In addition, the centre is committed towards advancing knowledge of India-Israel bilateral engagement. India and Israel began their political relations in 1992 and in the three decades the two nation-states have established substantial relationship in trade, education, agriculture and defense. With this growing strategic partnership it is critical to enhance knowledge of Modern Israel, its vibrant society and multiethnic culture. Jindal Centre for Israel Studies has established academic collaborations with the leading institutions in the field of Israel Studies such as Schusterman Center for Israel Studies at Brandeis University; Tel Aviv University; IDC Herzliya and the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Alongside universities, JCIS has collaborated with the American Jewish Committee's Asia Pacific Institute and Middle East Forum in the US to facilitate the centre's visiting scholars program and conferences. JCIS organizes frequent public talks, workshops and seminars with renowned scholars and academicians from India, Israel, US and Canada. JCIS has been convened in JSIA through the initiatives of Dr. Rohee Dasgupta and Dr. Khinvraj Jangid who is also the centre's Co-Director and Academic Coordinator.
