

O.P. JINDAL GLOBAL
INSTITUTION OF EMINENCE DEEMED TO BE UNIVERSITY
A Private University Promoting Public Service

Jindal School of Government and Public Policy
India's First Public Policy School

Jindal School of Government and Public Policy

invites you to join

» JSGP POLICY FORUM «

on

TEACHERS, TEACHER EDUCATION AND QUALITY: NATIONAL EDUCATION POLICY 2020 AND THE WAY AHEAD

Globally and nationally, teachers and their work are key to realizing equity, quality, and lifelong learning for all. Teachers are considered key determinants of education quality – playing a vital role in nation building and identity construction and providing meaningful learning to young children and youth – responsive to changing global and national economic, social, and cultural imperatives. Bringing together eminent policy practitioners working in the space of education policy and teacher professional development, this discussion seeks to highlight the key policy shifts with regard to teacher education and training in India. Through the course of the discussion, policy gaps and silences will also be unpacked in order to situate constructive recommendations for better integration and implementation of teacher education related reforms.

PRESENTER

Dr. Vidya Subramanian

Associate Professor,
Jindal School of Government and Public Policy

PANELLISTS

Anjela Taneja

Public Services and Inequality Policy and Advocacy Lead,
Oxfam

Jasmeet Walia

CEO, Creatnet Education

SAT | 02 MAR 2024

🕒 3:00 PM – 5:00 PM

<https://rb.gy/yuvkk0>

Join us on zoom

<https://rb.gy/d3ffum>
Password: JGU

📍 JGU INTERNATIONAL ACADEMY, TAJ MAHAL HOTEL, MAN SINGH ROAD, NEW DELHI

---

BIO OF PANELLISTS

---

Dr. Vidya Subramanian

Associate Professor, Jindal School of Government and Public Policy, JGU

Dr. Vidya Subramanian is an Associate Professor at the Jindal School of Government and Public Policy (JSGP) since 2021. She is a sociologist studying how enterprise cultures shape the governance of public education. Her current research follows consultants and think tanks as they advocate for technology-based and data-driven interventions to reform education. Her areas of expertise include technical education, gender and entrepreneurship, education policy, data and governance.

---

Anjela Taneja

Public Services and Inequality Policy and Advocacy Lead, Oxfam

Anjela Taneja is Lead, Public Services and Inequality lead for Oxfam International. She is the Co-Convenor of the RTE Forum, India's largest education network and had served as Head of Policy at Global Campaign for Education. Prior to this, she was Essential Services Lead for Oxfam India and the Technical Director-Education at CARE India. She also had a short stint in academia working at MS University, Baroda, India.

---

Jasmeet Walia

CEO, Creatnet Education

Jasmeet Walia joined Creatnet Education in 2015 to support the systems work with school principals and teachers across Delhi. She grew as a facilitator and formally took over as the CEO in 2022. She now leads the work with government education systems. Creatnet Education is a network of revolutionary leaders building volunteer-led learning communities in two distinct spaces - government education systems and youth and teacher communities. Creatnet Education's work in leadership development currently influences 2,500 government schools and approximately 66,000 teachers and 20 lakh students in Delhi. Prior to joining Creatnet Education, Jasmeet Walia worked for six years in the corporate sector and holds a Master's Degree in International Business from Symbiosis, Pune. She was also a Teach for India Fellow from 2014 to 2016.