JGU O.P. JINDAL GLOBAL UNIVERSITY

O.P. Jindal Global University (JGU) is a non-profit global university established by the Government of Haryana and recognised by the University Grants Commission (UGC). JGU was established as a philanthropic initiative of its Founding Chancellor, Mr. Naveen Jindal in memory of his father, Mr. O.P. Jindal. JGU is one of the few universities in Asia that maintains a 1:8 faculty-student ratio and appoints faculty members from India and different parts of the world with outstanding academic qualifications and experience. JGU is a research intensive university, which is deeply committed to its core institutional values of interdisciplinary and innovative pedagogy; pluralism and rigorous scholarship; and globalism and international engagement.

JGU has established ten schools: Jindal Global Law School (JGLS); Jindal Global Business School (JGBS); Jindal School of International Affairs (JSIA); Jindal School of Government and Public Policy (JSGP); Jindal School of Liberal Arts & Humanities (JSLH); Jindal School of Journalism & Communication (JSJC); Jindal School of Art & Architecture (JSAA); Jindal School of Banking & Finance (JSBF); the Jindal School of Environment & Sustainability (JSES) and most recently Jindal School of Psychology & Counselling (JSPC). JGU has been granted "Autonomy" by the University Grants Commission and the Ministry of Education, Government of India, for receiving the "A" Grade from the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC). This makes JGU the only private university in the state of Haryana and one of the only two private universities in India to be given the status of autonomy.

JGU has made history by breaking into the QS World University Rankings 2020 Edition. We are also the only Indian private university in the top 150 'young' universities in the world (under 50 years of age) in the QS Young University Rankings 2020. JGU is the youngest University in the world to feature in both these rankings. In September 2019, JGU was selected as an 'Institution of Eminence' (IOE) by the Government of India, making JGU one of only eight private universities in India to be awarded this status.

JGU was ranked in the top 700 universities in the world in the QS World University Rankings 2021 Edition, making it India's No. 1 Private University and India's No. 1 University dedicated to the Social Sciences, Arts and Humanities.

JSLH JINDAL SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS & HUMANITIES

The Jindal School of Liberal Arts and Humanities (JSLH) is India's first transnational humanities school. Founded in 2013, JSLH is the fifth school of the University and is at the center of the vibrant intellectual life of JGU. We have following program options:

- P.G. Diploma in Research & Innovation (Jindal Fellowship Program) is designed to take your undergraduate education to the next level by allowing you to achieve in-depth understanding of the domains you have begun to explore. This will be a year of pure learning with application of innovative concepts and research tools. As a JFP scholar you will be engaged in active research within a professional space.
- A three-year BA (Hons.) in Liberal Arts and Humanities with a possible specialization in eleven areas of the student's choice and an optional semester study abroad facilitated by JSLH.
- A unique four-year dual degree program with Rollins College, one of the top liberal arts colleges in the United States. Students perusing this option would study two years at JSLH and the next two years at Rollins College. At the end of their studies, they would receive a B.A. (Hons.) in a Liberal Arts from JSLH and a B.A. from Rollins College in a subject of their choice.
- The four year Bachelor of Fine Arts (Hons.), as it is positioned within JSLH, enables students to study visual art and also to learn within a broad range of liberal arts courses that brings into perspective social, cultural, and economic elements. These multiple dimensions influence artistic production and often determine the work's dissemination.

MESSAGE from the Dean

DEAN & PROFESSOR,
JINDAL SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS & HUMANITIES

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the Post Graduate Diploma in Research and Innovation (Jindal Fellowship Program). The Program is under the aegis of the Jindal School of Liberal Arts and Humanities (JSLH), and in keeping with the liberal arts model, emphasizes interdisciplinarity among domains within the arts and social sciences. The PGDRI (JFP) recognizes the achievements of admitted students, all of whom have completed an undergraduate curriculum, by placing emphasis on interdisciplinary research. Students have the opportunity to work closely with the international faculty from JSLH and all the JGU schools.

Students enjoy the unique opportunity of sharing the excitement of research and discovery by collaborating and learning with faculty mentors who are actively engaged in their areas of expertise. Twelve per cent of JGU faculty come from thirty-seven countries. This demographic constitutes a learning community that exchanges diversity of perspectives and shares a multiplicity of concerns. Living and learning in such a vibrant atmosphere promotes intercultural sensitization and gives meaning to the notion of service to community. Within this environment the PGDRI (JFP) student will take liberal arts learning to the next level of scholarship. Required courses aim to expose students to the latest and most imaginative research tools and introduce them to new perspectives. Courses, such as, complexity studies, future studies and design thinking, as well as advanced level courses in the student's chosen discipline provide a bridge to post-graduate studies or the job market.

The University offers many opportunities for students to apply their learning and refine research skills. JGU has fifty-five centers of research, institutes and research clusters. Students can apply to an appropriate site to work as a research assistant or an intern. The advantage of having an extended experience (four - five months) is that students can actually participate in the development of the research project and contribute to the work. Ideally the student will work with an on-site mentor who is capable of providing critical feedback to the student.

I can with confidence strongly recommend the Post Graduate Diploma in Research and Innovation (JFP) for the right student; an individual who is passionate about learning and ready to embrace the challenges of a competitive future.

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR & DIRECTOR, JFP
JINDAL SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS & HUMANITIES

MESSAGE

from the Director

It is with immense pleasure that I welcome you all to the P.G. Diploma in Research & Innovation (Jindal Fellowship Program) hosted by JSLH. JFP is a one-year experience in pure learning, aiming to fulfil the aspirations of those undergraduate students who want to delve deeper into an area or subject of their interest. After having spent three (or four) years in their undergraduate degree, which allowed a breadth of knowledge and understanding, this programme offers the depth. This also means that if your intellectual interests have already begun leaning towards a subject, and now you want to dive deeper into it, this programme is for you.

The most important aspect of the PGDRI (JFP) is individual mentorship. Every student is assigned with a faculty member who acts as her mentor throughout the programme, cultivating the student's skill, character and thinking attitude in the area of her research specialization. Further, the programme promises curated combination of coursework which form the taught part of the programme and a research intensive internship, in which students explore how real world research in organizations is conducted. They learn by doing. Skills of critical thinking and academic writing are the focal points of the program and are increasingly in demand, both in industry and academia. Most of all, students will be able to take any cross listed course across the entire university based on their interest.

The programme lends a disciplinary confidence in students even as they prepare for higher education qualifications which are often research-intensive. Students are also prepared for the job market, which is increasingly looking for research and thinking skills of fresh graduates. This one-year journey at JSLH will allow you to delve into exploring your field of interest, while ensuring an interdisciplinary experience across the social sciences and humanities.

P.G. DIPLOMA IN RESEARCH & INNOVATION

(JINDAL FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM)

The P.G. Diploma in Research & Innovation (Jindal Fellowship Program) aims to enhance research potential and capacity of students interested in pursuing research-based careers in the social sciences and humanities. The Programme is designed to take students' undergraduate education to the next level by enabling them to achieve in-depth understanding of the domains they have begun to explore.

As a PGDRI (JFP) scholar, the student will have an academic mentor for the whole year, working with her/his research ideas as well as an expert supervisor, who will guide her/him through the research internship of four months.

PROGRAMME FEATURES

- 01 A one-year residential fellowship programme for young scholars and professionals, curated to develop their research capabilities, skills and expertise.
- 02 Fellows engage meaningfully with a discipline and research area which they are interested in, through active mentorship and research supervision.
- 03 During the first semester, students finish required and optional coursework. In the second, they complete a 4-month long internship, preferably within a Research Centre in JGU.
- 04 The programme is designed for students interested to pursue higher education as well as for those wanting to work on research-based jobs in the industry.

COURSE STRUCTURE

1st SEMESTER 16 CREDITS

■ Advanced Writing (4 Credits):

The intensive and immersive writing program encourages students to consider their written work in their embedded environment; one that is constituted through many historical, cultural and political determinants but is mediated through different forms of technology.

■ Advanced Research Methods (4 Credits):

This course will examine ways of integrating disciplines with methodology that is both academically and socially relevant.

■ Introduction to Future Studies (4 Credits):

This interdisciplinary course attempts to compose probable futures by discovering, debating and (re)constructing assumptions and patterns of change and stability of systems.

■ Advanced study (4 Credits each):

Students choose one or two advanced level courses in their area of interest. The following Advanced Courses are on offer in Autumn 2021:

Technology & Innovation in Global Business | Global Economy | Psychology of Courtroom | Positive Psychology: The Science of Flourishing | Biological Psychology | Family Business Management | Digital Marketing | Marketing Strategies for Emerging Markets | Urbanization & Development: Practice, Theory & Policy | Ancient Civilisation: Egypt, Mesopotamia & Greece | Competency Mapping | Consumer Behaviour | Globalization of Education | Behavioural Economics & Finance | RISE | Derivatives & Risk Management | Statistical Programming with R | Application of Psychology to Enhance Human Potential | Organization Development & Management of Change | Apocalypse Now: Fictions of Dystopia.

■ Optional Language Study:

Available options include Spanish, French, German and Mandarin.

2nd SEMESTER 14 CREDITS

■ Internship (8 Credits):

Each student will do an internship from January- April in an organization, institute or with an individual that coincides with the student's area of interest, career and study goals.

■ Advanced Research Report (6 Credits):

STUDENT TESTIMONIALS

“An enriching experience, the Fellowship program has been highly insightful and focuses on research intensive teaching to develop essential skills. One of its kind, this course facilitated quality interactions with faculty members, internship opportunities with a challenging and fresh curriculum to engage further into my field as a researcher. With a strong team of faculty members, attention to specific subject needs and guidance came hand in hand with mentorship. It has been a learning experience and essentially enabled me to get back to university after gaining working experience during COVID 19.

I would positively recommend this course for any student looking to explore and set grounds for research. Much appreciation for the faculty members and Jindal University for coming up this unique fellowship program, helping me to build a network of fellow researchers and explore research as a student of Psychology.”

“A year at the fellowship program was truly transformative for me. As someone who felt that there was lacking in terms of my understanding of research and my major, this program successfully filled the gaps. I was exposed to a variety of subjects, which included future studies. A subject that I had never thought would impact my life the way it did. It continuously pushed me to think out of the box and opened my mind up to various topics of research that I did not think would exist. This program pushes you to think beyond the kind of concept and worldviews you are constantly subjected to. Thereby causing one to take a deep dive into their research and looking at it from all point of views. The first semester definitely made me more confident about my research and writing skills. While subjects advanced research writing made it easier for me to articulate my words, advanced methodology opened my mind up to various methods that one could use in order to succeed in their research namely media and textual analysis, design thinking and probability.

All of these being relevant to any kind major that one could be pursuing. Moreover, having a mentor whose interests matched mine plus a group of understanding and helpful faculty members made this experience easier and interactive even after everything being online.”

» Ishita Jain
PGDRI (JFP) 2020

“The Jindal Fellowship Program is an excellent space for developing research skills for students having finished their undergraduate degree. The program created an efficient space for both learning as well as practical application. The various foundational courses in research ensure adequate writing skills as well as research methods. The courses work well regardless of one's field of interest as they are created with an interdisciplinary approach. The advanced study option provided me with the opportunity to undertake subjects and courses that I was unable to undertake during my degree. This helps add to the learning experiences. The program plays an important role in bridging the gap between an undergraduate and postgraduate education, preparing me for the competitive research environment that is present in most master's degrees.

The JFP has helped me narrow my area of specialization, for both my master's as well as my career plans. The mentorship system definitely proves advantageous as it provides with the opportunity to engage with experienced professors, especially in terms of the research work.

Overall, the fellowship has been a positive learning space, for which I am very thankful.”
